This play was written by Penman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer, and played for many years by Joseph Conyers and his company. It was played in Walter's Theatre several years ago. Joseph Conyers, who played here in the role of Darius Sturtevant, the village constable, takes that part in this production. The new minister, which was played by Jay Wellington, is taken by Tom Moore. ALICE JOYCE takes the part of the leading lady.

Lem Ranson steals some bonds at the instigation of Chapman, an unscrupulous lawyer. Lem is sent away for three years. Strong, the new minister comes to Hardscrapple. Chapman dislikes the man and incites the deacons against him. When Lem's time expires he returns home.

The deacons try to force him from the village, but Strong defends him.

Lem learns that his friend is threatened with dismissal, because of his friendship for him. Later Chapman's villainy is discovered and all ends well.

COUNTY GIRL IS AFTER FORTUNE

York Springs Woman Willed Seventy Five Thousand Dollars by her Husband is now Fighting for Money in New Jersey Court.

Mrs. Benjamin Watkins, a York Springs girl, daughter of Mrs. Mary Lory, of that place, is fighting in the New Jersey courts at Camden for $75,000 of her husband's estate, which she says was to be her reward for marrying a man 25 years older than herself.

According to the widow, who lives in Merchantville, when Watkins proposed marriage to her in 1910 she refused him because he was much older than she. The woman was then 25 and Watkins more than 50.

Finally he promised that if she would marry him he would will her his estate amounting to $75,000 upon his death. Watkins died some months ago and had carried out his part of the agreement by making a will in his wife's favor, but since his death three brothers have put in a claim for part of the estate.

Friends of the young woman living in and about York Springs will watch eagerly the developments in the case.

FOR DIRT ROADS

Department Explains Workings of Jones Dirt Highway Act.

The bureau of township highways of the state highway department, organized under the Jones dirt road act, passed by the 1913 legislature, is making active preparations for a busy season in 1914. Reports have been received from nearly every one of the 1,508 townships of the second class in the state, giving the organization of the boards of supervisors which will work in co-operation with the bureau.

Little is generally understood regarding the workings of the earth road law. It was formed to supplement the work of the state highway department as established by the Sproul act and under its provisions a general supervision of the highways and bridges maintained in whole or in part by aid of state moneys, excepting state or state-aid highways, is provided for. Each township of the second class in the state elects, at the municipal election, three supervisors, who meet with the auditors of their respective townships on the first Monday in December and appoint a secretary and treasurer. This board of supervisors is authorized to levy a road tax not exceeding 10 mills. Each township coming under the provisions of the act receives annually from the state 50 per cent of the total amount of road tax collected in cash.

An important part of the duties of the township supervisors is to divide the township into two or more road districts and employ a superintendent for the entire township or road masters for each district. These road masters are to be paid by the hour, their wages being fixed by the township supervisors.

As is the case under the Sproul act, the state is divided into districts with a state highway superintendent assigned to each district.

SETTLE ROLLER SKATING FUSS

Roller Skating to be Permitted All Day and Two Evenings at the Garden Auditorium. Use for Other Purposes not Affected.

The case of C. S. Reaser and William M. Henry against John F. Walter, relative to the use of the Garden Auditorium for roller skating purposes was heard in Adams County Court on Saturday.

The final disposition of the case allows the use of the resort for roller skating on Wednesday and Saturday evenings and the evenings of legal holidays up to 10:30. The use of the auditorium for roller skating in the day time is permitted whenever desired and the use of the place for other purposes than skating is not affected in any way.

Mr. Reaser and Mr. Henry testified that the noise from the place was very annoying and especially so when any skater was so unfortunate as to fall to the floor. The present arrangement, it is understood, forms an amicable compromise among the parties concerned.

Leo Darr pleaded guilty to the larceny charge preferred against him in the case involving the theft of some of his step-father's clothing. He was returned to the care of his step-father, Jacob Darr, to be held as a witness in the case against John Sponseller, accused of receiving stolen goods, which will come before January term of Court, which convenes of the twenty sixth of the month. The Court intimated that, after the hearing of the latter case, the Darr boy would be sent to Glen Mills.

Upon petition John A. Deardorff was appointed supervisor of Butler township to fill a vacancy.

FALSE PRETENSE

Holden Sentenced to Four Months in Jail.

M. C. Holden, who was convicted by a jury in the York County criminal court last week of false pretenses, was sentenced by Judge Wanner Saturday to a term of four months in jail and pay $1 fine and costs of prosecution. About four months have already been served in jail by the defendant awaiting trial, he having been arrested early in September. The crime committed by Holden was inducing G. Milton Bair, of Hanover, to endorse a draft for $165 upon an Atlanta, Ga., trust company, and thus guarantee its payment by falsely representing that he (Holden) had sufficient funds in that bank to pay it. Holden is said to be a resident of Baltimore and was engaged in the insurance business. In this manner he became acquainted with Mr. Bair.

MAJORITY ARE NEW RESIDENTS

Three Fourths of the Employees at Local Furniture Factories Did not Live in Gettysburg Five Years ago. Men Enjoy Banquet.

Employees of the Gettysburg Furniture Factory enjoyed the first annual banquet given in their honor Saturday evening in the social rooms of St. James Chapel. Practically all the members of the large force were present and the affair was a great success.

The large number of unfamiliar faces among the banqueters was commented upon and when Mr. Reaser, general manager of the plant, was asked about this he made this remarkable statement, "Of the employees at both the Reaser and Gettysburg factories not more than twenty five per cent were residents of Gettysburg five years ago." In other words, of the 250 employees at the two plants about 185 are new residents of Gettysburg, many of them married men with families, which gives a ready explanation to those who ask whence the increase in the population and development of the town.

After all had enjoyed an elaborate supper prepared and served by the Mite Society of the church, John D. Keith as toastmaster called on Mr. Reaser to respond to the toast "Our Purpose and how to Fulfill it." The address of the man who has brought the pay roll from a total of $72.73 the first week he was in charge to a weekly total of between $2300 and $2400, at the present time, was followed with the utmost attention. He made his vigorous plea for co-operation both in and out of the factory and said that the only way the men could get their greatest happiness and contentment was by working for each other.

Mr. Reaser touched on his strong dislike for the use of cigarettes and liquor, laying special stress on the danger of smoking in the factory. He denied ever having made the statement, accredited to him, that he would not employ a man who used either tobacco or alcoholic beverages and said he was rather here to try to have his men overcome objectionable habits than to discharge any who were addicted to them.

Two employees of the plant made short speeches, Harry Shryock and Max Foth. Mr. Foth made a special argument for some place where the young boys of the town could congregate in the evenings for healthful pleasures and said he believed an association of the employees of the two plants could accomplish this. He also suggested that such association might take up the question of providing benefits for sick or injured employees. Mr. Keith stated in reply that he hoped that the board of directors could at some future time provide the amusement place which Mr. Foth advocated.

Rev. Joseph B. Baker addressed the employees briefly, urging their support of the management of the plant and assuring them that, if the time ever came when the two local furniture companies could reap sufficient financial returns to "cut a melon", as the Ford Motor Car Company did ten days ago, he was sure the employees here would get their share.

A string quartet rendered a number of selections during the evening and the banquet came to a close about nine o'clock. The Reaser factory force was entertained at a banquet a week previous. Included in the guests Saturday evening were members of the board of directors and representatives of the three town newspapers.

Adams County's public school teachers met at Biglerville on Saturday to discuss topics of interest and importance to those connected with the cause of education. Forty five teachers were present together with patrons and some directors. The sessions were held in the Grammar School room in the Thomas building.

Blanche Stoops, of Gettysburg, discussed "Hygiene in the Primary Grades"; Dr. Ezra Lehman, principal of the State Normal School at Shippensburg, talked on "Composition in the Public Schools"; and Prof. George B. Ely, of Gettysburg, had for his subject "Ideas in Action."

At the afternoon session County Superintendent H. Milton Roth presided. Mrs. Mary E. Wible, of Gettysburg, discussed "Language in the Intermediate Grades"; Mrs. Katie K. Withrow, of Gettysburg, "Writing in the Intermediate Grades"; Prof. Ely, "Moral Training"; and Dr. Lehman "Those Bad Boys."

Vocal solos were given by Miss Viola Kapp, Miss Leila Fohl, and Miss Edna Ulrich. The singing was led by M. E. Hanes who was assisted by the children of the Biglerville schools.

The teachers were entertained in the hospitable homes of the town and passed a vote of thanks on their cordial entertainment while there.

The next meeting will be held at Littlestown on February 13 and 14. The Principals' Association meets at New Oxford next Saturday.

WINTER WEATHER

Freezing Temperatures and Snows Promised for the Week.

Freezing weather extending to Southern Florida was predicted by the Weather Bureau experts for the first few days of the week.

"The week will open," said the bulletin, "with cold weather in the Northwest, that will extend through the upper lake region during Monday and by Tuesday night or Wednesday morning will reach the North Atlantic States, but will probably not extend very far South of the Lake region owing to the prevailing high pressure over the Ohio Valley and the Gulf States. There will also be heavy frosts and freezing temperatures Monday and Tuesday over the South Atlantic and Gulf States, and by Tuesday morning the frosts will probably extend over the interior of Southern Florida."

"It is not probable that high temperatures will be experienced during the week over the South, but over the North, after the passing of the cold wave now over the Canadian Northwest, there will be a recovery to more moderate temperatures that will reach the North Atlantic States about Thursday."

"Rains and snows are due in the Missouri and Upper Mississippi Valleys eastward, reaching the Atlantic States Thursday or Friday."

THERE will be a special meeting of Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562 F. O. E. on Tuesday evening, January 13th, at 7 o'clock. All members urged to be present. Jas. B. Aumen.—advertisement

VILLA CAPTURES CITY OF OJINAGA

Rebels Take Huerta Stronghold After Sharp Fight.

MANY CROSSED THE RIVER

Federal Commander Surrendered to Major McNamee and Troops Are Scattered.

Presidio, Texas, Jan. 12.—General Francisco Villa captured the Mexican town of Ojinaga at 10 o'clock on Saturday night.

The rebel victory followed a sharp battle, in which the superiority of the rebel forces was evident.

It had been conceded that the fall of the city would mark the overthrow of the Huerta regime in the whole of northern Mexico.

The attack on the garrison was resumed early in the day. Led by General Villa, just before sundown, the rebel army, advancing from the southeast and west, drove back the Federal outposts, captured fifty men and then opened a heavy rifle fire on the Federal trenches, backed by shrapnel from the rebel field guns.

Villa, advancing from the south,
had with him only 1000 men. Generals Herrera and Hernandez led 1200 rebels from the west, from a base in the village of San Juan. The main body of rebels, comprising about 4800 men, advanced along the river road from the east.

Steadily creeping toward the Federal fortifications high on the plateau
where Ojinaga stands, the rebels, enveloped in great clouds of dust, occupied positions four miles from the village before they met with any resistance.

The Federal outposts then opened fire, their rifle volleys being supported by the fire of a few machine guns.
The rattling return fire of the rebels
soon silenced the guns of the outposts.

The scattered federals were thrown into disorder and attempted to retreat,
but fifty were captured, and seven others threw away their rifles and jumped into the river, swimming to the American side.

The rout of the Federal outposts
had an immediate effect on the Federal garrison. Many other outposts were withdrawn, the cattle were also driven into the village, and women and children were hurriedly dispatched across the river to American territory.

It was impossible for Major Mc-Namee to learn what had become of the federals, whether the bulk of them had taken refuge on the American side or whether they scattered to points in Mexico. The country about Ojinaga is mostly desert, with little to sustain life.

It was learned that when he had decided to give up, General Mercado himself went through the village telling soldiers and civilians to flee to the United States.

This provoked something of a panic
rush for the river and in mad disorder a mob plunged into the river. Soldiers toppled over women and children, but all reached the American side in safety.

General Mercado remained in the garrison until he saw that all who could be found had left. He came across with the rear. On the American side the United States soldiers rounded up the refugees in a wide circular space. The arms taken from the refugees made a huge stack in the American camp.

The federals had completed the evacuation before the rebels were fully aware of it. Some of the rebel guns were kept throwing shells into the deserted town.

The rebels captured between 300 and 400 prisoners, the most of them volunteers, and hundreds of these have been executed.

Generals Pascual Orozco, Jose y
Salazar and Antonio Rojas, the Federal volunteer generals, most wanted by Villa, have with 300 or 400 loyal followers made their escape.

Rebels Delay American Charge.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Jan. 12.—Neison
O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, who has been having conferences here with John Lind, President Wilson's special envoy, is held up at Orizaba on his way to the capital on account of the fact that the rebels have captured two stations on the line between Vera Cruz and Mexico City.

Dies When Sons Are Fined.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 12.—Death followed the trial of several men here charged with gambling in the police court. Louis Coppola, a former policeman, and his brother, Ralph, had just been fined when Mrs. Mary Coppola, their mother, rose from her seat in the courtroom, walked to the door,
creaked half fell over the threshold,
and died.

Shoots Cat; Pistol Kicks Him In Eye.

Rheems, Pa., Jan. 12.—While J. S.
Ulrich was trying to kill a sick cat with an automatic pistol he held the weapon too close to his face and in recoiling it almost knocked out his eye. He was taken to the General hospital, where the eye may be saved, but it is a very dangerous wound. The lower lid was almost severed. The cat was killed.

HENRY FORD.
Auto Manufacturer Gives Reasons
For Gift to Employees.

Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, in making known his reasons for giving away $10,000,000 to his employees, said:

"Good will is about the only fact there is in life. A man can win almost anything, and if good will doesn't come with it it won't amount to much.
He can lose all he has, but if he keeps the good will of those he has been associated with he'll still be rich."

"There's economic soundness in the plan. If men will work better in the hope of something, how will they work with that something actually in hand?
"We start our women in at $4 a month. Those who have families dependent upon them will get the $5 a day as a minimum."

"We will benefit, and, anyhow, we would have the satisfaction of making 20,000 men prosperous and contented rather than making a few slave drivers in our plant millionaires."

"It's a sound thing economically and socially, that we have done, and the dependent upon them will get the $5 a
day as a minimum."

"For years we have been as fami-lar with the home life of our men as we have been with their factory life.
They will not abuse this good fortune."

12 "WORST BOYS" GET LAST CHANCE

Will be Given Opportunity to Reform on Ranch.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The twelve worst boys in the United States were brought here just before they left to establish the Last Chance Boys' Club
on a nine-acre ranch twenty-seven miles from Reno, Nev., where an effort will be made to make valuable citizens of them.

The club is supported by Jack London, Upton Sinclair, Robert Hunter and Jack Robbins, president of the "Glenwood National Fellowship club."

The boys range in age from thirteen to fifteen years. They were selected from among 9000 bad boys in twelve states, and each is rated at over $7 per cent bad. Mr. Robinson started on Oct. 2 in search of them. Their home cities are:

Hartford, Conn.; Sioux City, Iowa;
Mississippi; Lima, O.; Detroit,
Mich.; Erie, Pa.; Racine, Wis.; East
St. Louis, Ill.; Bridgeport, N. J.; Boston; Brooklyn, and Wheeling, W. Va.

"We do not believe in anything of a police nature in the reformation of boys," said Mr. Robbins. "We are going to give our plan several years' trial. If successful it will start the greatest bad boy reclamation project
ever known."

"UNLOADED" PISTOL KILLS

Man Flashes Revolver In Store and Kills a Boy.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 12.—Three men were sitting in Jacob Mitchell's shoe making shop in Duncanville, when Thomas Hamel entered and flourishing
a revolver said he intended to shoot
one of them.

Two of the men bolted for the door and got out. David Hobbey, eighteen years old, thinking Hamel was joking, made no move and was shot through the breast, dying almost instantly.

Hamel ran to the woods, but was

HARRY THAW IS FOUND SANE

Commission Says Fugitive Is No Longer a Menace.

WILL BE FREED ON BAIL

Members Unanimous That Slayer's
Release Would In No Way Menace
Public Peace and Safety.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 12.—The commission appointed by Judge Aldrich, of the United States court, to reach a finding as to whether it would be a public menace to liberate Harry K.
Thaw on bail, pending a final decision of his case in the federal court, has reached a conclusion and filed the same in writing with the clerk of the United States court in this city.

The report of the commission was made public and its conclusion is couched in these words:

"In our opinion it is reasonably probable that Harry Kendall Thaw's liberty under bail would not be dangerous or a menace to the public peace
and safety."

The commission further states by its written report that its members have formed a unanimous and positive opinion as to the state of Thaw's mind
at the time of the homicide, but refrains from expressing that opinion, because the scope of its inquiry does not permit of a finding or an opinion on this point.

The report is addressed to Judge
Aldrich and signed by all the members of the commission. In its opening pages of the somewhat exhaustive report the commission says that they went carefully over the case book of the Matteawan hospital covering the period from Feb. 1, 1908, to Aug. 17, 1913, when Thaw escaped.

It also examined transcripts of all other legal proceedings, including the various close and direct examinations of Thaw and all evidence submitted at the two trials of Thaw for homicide.
The commission refers to the public hearing which it gave on Jan. 7, at which only witnesses in favor of Thaw appeared, and then concluded its report as follows:

"To determine the immediate question before us, our investigation was necessarily directed to four points:

"First—Careful physical examination to determine the presence or absence of structural or functional disturbance of the nervous system.

"Second—The conduct of Harry K.
Thaw since his commitment to the Ma-tteawan State hospital on Feb. 1, 1908,
up to the present time.

"Third—Whether he is now suffering from such a disease of the mind or whether his present condition of mind, whatever it may be, is of such character as to predispose to acts of violence, independently of the narrower question whether such acts actually have been committed since his commitment or not.

"Fourth—The circumstances and conditions which outwardly and inwardly led to the homicide on June 26, 1906, and the probable condition of mind of Harry K. Thaw at that time.

"In its studies and deliberations the commission has in the main confined its attention to facts, preferring to attach little importance, for its purpose,
to the conflicting opinions of expert and other witnesses.

"In our opinion it is reasonably probable that Harry K. Thaw's liberty under bail would not be dangerous or a menace to the public peace and safety."

DRUG, ROB AND FIRE HOUSE

Baltimore Woman Tells Police of Bandits' Visit.

Baltimore, Jan. 12.—A weird story
of how two bandits, after robbing her,
had drugged her and then attempted to hide all evidence of the crime by pouring oil over the furniture and setting it on fire, was told Detective John Kratz, of headquarters, by Mrs. Rose Sullivan, of 1402 Baltimore street.

According to Mrs. Sullivan the bandits entered her apartments shortly after midnight and demanded money.
When she had given them all the cash she had she declared they made her sign a check for $140 she had in bank, as shown by a bank book which one of the robbers found. After signing the check she asserts, that she remembered nothing more until she saw the firemen in the room.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 12.—Thomas Hamel, a young railroad worker, entered a shoemaker shop at Duncanville, flour-

to utter any slighting remark about his sweetheart. Another boy, David Mobbey, accepted the dare. Hamel immediately discharged his weapon, and the bullet entered Mobbey's breast.
He died a few minutes later. Hamel surrendered to a constable.

BUSINESS BEGINS TO BOOM IN WEST

Salesmen Are Urged to Hurry For Orders.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Business throughout the middle west is so good that merchants are writing for traveling salesmen to hurry out with their lines of goods so that new stocks may be laid in, reported members of the Illinois Commercial Men's association,
holding their annual convention here.
Charles W. Salisbury said that his company had several such requests
within two weeks.

"Settlement of the tariff question
and the passage of the currency bill with the prospect of extension of rural credits, has put a sudden end to the "hand-to-mouth" buying of the last few months," said Mr. Salisbury. "For a while, with the tariff matter up in the air and the currency bill in the balance, with a Mexican war looming up as a possibility, merchants were buying no more than absolutely necessary. They were devoting their energies toward closing out their stocks
on hand."

TO STOP CROWDING MOVIES

Managers Warned Arrests Will Follow
Disregard of Order.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 12.—Arrangements for the arrest and prosecution of managers of moving picture shows who permit overcrowding of their theaters have been made by John P.
Jackson, commissioner of labor and industry, with chiefs of police and burgesses in several cities and boroughs of the state because of reports which have been sent to the capitol showing that the state laws and the common rules of safety are being ignored in many instances.

Commissioner Jackson has names of managers of about 80 per cent of the moving picture shows in the state and will send them letters calling attention to state laws and regulations, but says he does not intend to wait until they receive them before acting in case of overcrowding.

TOOK STRONG BOX

Thief Gets Away With Savings Fund,
Gold Watch.

The home of William Frock, Midway, was entered some time last Thursday and a tin box containing a gold watch, $50 in cash and an old coin, several pocketbooks, a certificate of deposit at the Peoples Bank of Hanover and a number of other valuable papers.

The watch was a lady's size gold watch which Mr. Frock had purchased about eighteen years ago. Twenty five dollars of the money was Christmas savings money belonging to their fifteen-year-old son, Donald.

Mr. Frock is employed as extra conductor on the Hanover street car line.

THE PRESIDENT STARTS HOME

Leaves Pass Christian, Miss., For Washington.

Unusual Precautions Taken to Safeguard Life of Mr. Wilson While Traveling.

Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 12. — President Wilson started back home last night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and the other members of his family. Washington will be reached, if all goes well, at 7:11 tomorrow morning.

There were a few persons gathered at the depot when the big White House automobile arrived alongside of the private car, and as the executive alighted from the machine and courteously assisted Mrs. Wilson to the ground there was hearty cheering by those present.

The president doffed his hat for an instant. Then the group of secret service men gathered behind him and he was whisked across the gravel paved platform, up the steps and into the recess of the big private car.

Unusual precautions had been taken to safeguard the life of the chief executive. His train, made up of a big steel car carrying the two big White House automobiles, a heavy baggage car, a regular Pullman for the members of the immediate party, and the private car Ideal, was preceded over the route by a pilot train. The latter ran as an "extra" just ten minutes ahead of the presidential special.

Freight trains along the route had orders to clear the main line thirty minutes ahead of the pilot train or forty minutes in advance of the presidential special. Passenger trains were ordered to the sidings twenty-five minutes before the special was due, and the head officials of the railroad kept vigil on board the train to see that the orders were obeyed.

The president spent a quiet Sunday. In the morning he went to the little Presbyterian church presided over by Rev. Herbert McDowell, who was so grievously disappointed on the first Sunday of the president's visit, when the executive failed to show up in response to an invitation to occupy the pulpit.

There was no advance intimation of the coming of the President and Mrs. Wilson, and there was less than seventy worshippers in the little frame edifice. The preacher made no reference to the unexpected arrivals other than to offer a fervent prayer expressing the hope that the health of the head of the nation had "been benefited by his sojourn under our beloved sunshine."

In the afternoon the President and Mrs. Wilson took a brief walk.

100 LASHES FOR SEVEN

White Man Who Stole Chickens Rarified at Whipping Post.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 12. — Seven men, four of them negroes, were whipped at the workhouse here, Chief Warden Crawford applying the lash.

An unusual feature of the affair was the whipping of a white man, Robert Dempsey, who received twenty lashes for stealing chickens. He also will serve eighteen months' imprisonment.

The others whipped were: George Vincent, colored, ten lashes and one year, for highway robbery; Benjamin Williams, colored, two years and twenty lashes, for larceny; Joseph Brown, colored, three months and ten lashes, for larceny; Henry Caulk, three months and twenty lashes, for breaking in with intent to commit larceny; Jeremiah Kelleher, three months and ten lashes, for larceny; John Tollee, six months and ten lashes, for larceny.

BABY KNOCKS OUT DADDY

Little Fist and Fingernails Land in the Paternal Eye.

York, Pa., Jan. 12. — The new "white hope" is a five-months-old baby of Stuart Fisher, a York printer, who has laid up his father for a week at least with a left swing to the right eye.

Fisher was carrying his baby up stairs when it saw the opening for its knockout. Its fist landed on the eyeball and one of the tiny fingernails ruptured several blood vessels. Fisher has been consigned to a darkened room for a week, but it is not thought his sight is permanently impaired.

Announces a Wage Cut.

Conshohocken, Pa., Jan. 12. — Notices were posted at the iron mills of the J. Wood & Brothers company and the Schuylkill works of the Alan Wood Iron and Steel company here announcing that a reduction in wages of ten employees would go into effect on Jan. 26. Several hundred men will be affected.

AXE MURDER PUZZLES POLICE

Woman Was Hacked to Pieces on a Barge In New Bedford Harbor.

New Bedford, Mass., Jan. 12. — The "axe murder" discovered Saturday on the barge Shippe will probably never be solved, the police predicted.

They base this assertion on the ruling of Judge Milliken, which made it impossible for the police to give the third degree to Captain Charles Matrony, who is charged with the crime. Matrony was stupefied with liquor when taken into custody, and around his neck was a short rope, tied in a noose. He was pulling the other end in an apparent attempt to hang himself.

The body of Annie Walsh was found hacked to pieces and an axe lying nearby. The police did not try to question Matrony because of his condition, and when they started to take him back to police headquarters after his arraignment, Judge Milliken ruled that Matrony was no longer in the custody of the police and that they had no right to grill him. Matrony will offer as defense that he was drunk and was robbed of his monthly pay by some man who boarded the barge and who was discovered by the Walsh girl, her murder resulting from an attempt to sound an alarm.

CONGRESS TO ACT ON DELAYED BILLS

Second Stage of Long Regular Session Begins.

Washington, Jan. 12. — Congress started today upon the second stage of the long regular session, with the calendars of both houses crowded with legislation of varied and far-reaching character.

Regulation of the trusts through further corrective and prohibitory legislation will hold much of the attention of both houses from the time work begins, but other subjects are to share the legislative arena with the corporation measures. The first of the trust bills to bear any official status are expected to appear during the present week, with the indorsement of the Democratic membership of the house judiciary committee; and their scope and terms probably will reflect closely the views of President Wilson and Attorney General McKendall.

Rural credits legislation will receive attention when the president returns from Pass Christian. He has had with him the report of the rural credits commission and an outline of the general banking bill that is to be laid before congress for consideration at this session. Both of these documents will be made public within a week or two.

The rural credits legislation will take the form of a measure creating a system of country banks from which farmers and stock raisers can secure credit upon special terms of security and time of maturity, and the creation of credit associations by which farming communities can finance their own operations.

Scores of other legislative subjects are pressing for consideration in both houses and congressional leaders, who were in Washington predicted that the present session would be crowded with work until well into the summer.

MINERS ARE UNITED

White Says Convention Will Be Best in Their History.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 12. — Over 1700 delegates, representing approximately 415,000 members, will attend the twenty-fourth international convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which will open in this city on Jan. 20 and continue about three weeks.

According to President John P. White, of the organization, the convention will be without any factional fights, which have enlivened previous gatherings of the miners. His report, he says, will show that the membership has been almost doubled in the past two years, that the organization is in the best condition in its history, and that there is little trouble except in Colorado.

A wage scale to replace the present contract with the coal mine operators, which expires on March 31 next, is the principal business. What the miners will demand will be determined by the delegates.

Masked Men Slay Father and Son.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 12. — Police of this city are searching for two men who, while masked, walked into the grocery of John C. Morrison, shot Morrison and then killed Arling Morrison, a son. John Morrison died on the operating table at a hospital. Young Morrison, before being slain, shot and wounded one of the murderers. The police believe the murder was in revenge. Morrison killed a burglar some time ago while the latter was attempting to rob the store.

Mine Blast Kills Twelve.

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 12. — Twelve men, five whites and seven negroes, were killed by an explosion in the Rock Castle mine of the Davis Creek Coal company, thirty-five miles south of Birmingham. According to revised reports more than 200 men were at work in the mine when the explosion occurred. All but twelve got out before the afterdamp affected them seriously.

EXTRAVAGANT MATERIALS FAVORED FOR EVENING WRAPS

Wonderfully patterned and colored brocades and silks that we have heretofore admired at a distance with a vague notion that they were intended for some use, but never for a moment connecting them with the idea of dress, have come into favor for evening wear. Often the entire wrap is fashioned of a material which reminds one strongly of a Chinese mandarin's coat, and then, again, a wrap of a rich velvet or silk in a plain color is trimmed with a gorgeously colored brocade in a Persian or Indian design. It offers the woman who really loves these vivid, glowing colors to indulge in them without appearing in poor taste.

A charming dancing frock with a double tunic of chiffon in a delicate shade of yellow over charmeuse of a darker shade is illustrated in No. 8100. Over the shoulders and edging each tunic is a band of Persian embroidery in which there are glints of gold and interminglings of shades that harmonize exquisitely with the material of the gown.

The bodice is a very simple surplice design; the transparent sleeves and decollete are edged with tiny pearls. This gown may be copied in size 36 with 2 1/2 yards of plain material for the skirt, 6 1/2 yards of 42 inch material, silk or chiffon, for the overdress. A simple charming design for an evening wrap is shown in 8076. It is perfectly plain, closes on the left shoulder and is well suited to the rich brocade in which it is here developed.

This wrap may be made in any size with 3 1/2 yards of 42 inch or 54 inch material without up and down.

WEDDING DINNER AT RANCH

Pleasant Time for All When Neighbors Brought in the Dishes and Cowboys Served.

Our dinner was a success, but that is not to be wondered at. Every woman for miles around contributed. Of course, we had to borrow dishes, but we couldn't think of seating every one, so we set one table for 24 and had three other long tables, on one of which we placed all the meats, pickles and sauces, on another the vegetables, soup and coffee, and on the third the pie, cake, ice cream and other desserts. We had two big shelves, one above the other, on which were the dishes. The people helped themselves to dishes and neighbors took turns at serving from the tables, so people got what they wanted and helped themselves a place to sit while they ate.

Two of the cowboys from this ranch waited upon the table at which were the wedding party and some of their friends. Boys from other ranches helped serve and carried coffee, cake and ice cream. The tablecloths were tolerably good linen, and we had ironed them wet so they looked nice. We had white lace paper on the shelves, and we used drawn-work paper napkins. As I said, we borrowed dishes, or, that is, every woman who called herself our neighbor brought what ever she thought we would need. So after every one had eaten, I suggested that they sort out their dishes and wash them, and in that way I was saved all that work. We had every thing done and were off to the dance by five o'clock.—Atlanta Monthly.

Intervals Between Meals.

The question as to the length of the interval between meals is an important one, says a physician. And here, in particular, individual requirements enter largely. Some people can go for a considerable time without food and feel better for so doing. Others feel sick and unduly tired if they fast too long. It rests with each one to find out what suits him best.

On general principles, however, if an interval is too short there is a likelihood of a certain amount of food being left over still undigested from the last meal. And this interferes with the work of the stomach.

If, however, the interval is too long the system has become exhausted, and the stomach goes on strike. By the time the meal is taken the supply of gastric fluid has failed. If a long interval between any two meals is unavoidable it is better to take some light food in the meantime. This prevents the sense of exhaustion, and does not hinder the stomach from doing its work when called upon.

God Back at the Judge.

Hawkins, Q. C., a famous pleader of the mid-Victorian era, was engaged before Lord Campbell in a case that arose out of a collision between a brougham and an omnibus. One of the advocates pronounced the word "brougham" as a dissyllable, evidently

How to Clean Marble Told. Scraping marble which has been blackened or turned green by air and damp is dangerous to the design; whatever precautions may be taken, the work is always scratched more or less, and it is impossible to cleanse the carved parts without breaking the sculpture or causing incongruities between the designs in relief and those which are sculptured. Soiled articles, which have not been tarnished by exposure to the open air, may be cleansed by potash water, then wash them in pure water and finish with water containing a dash of hydrochloric acid. Soap and water is often sufficient, spread on with a brush, and introduced into the sculpture parts by a somewhat stiff pencil.—Construction News.

The Lineal Descendant. Senator Tillman was criticising our American aristocracy. "We have families," he said, "that claim descent from Charlemagne, Richard Coeur de Lion, Shakespeare—in fact, all the celebrities of all time. These claims to distinction are more or less false. How futile, anyhow, such claims are. "A little boy said the other day to his father: "Dad, what's a lineal descendant?" "A lineal descendant," the father answered, "is a lazy, worthless loafer whose only claim to importance lies in the fact that he once had an ancestor who devoted his life to hard and honest work."

Duty. One sound always comes to the ear that is open; it is the steady drum-beat of Duty. No music in it, perhaps—only a dry rub-a-dub. Ah, but that steady beat marks the time of the whole orchestra of earth and heaven! It says to you: "Do your work—do the duty nearest you!" Keep step to that drum-beat, and the dullest march is taking you home.—George S. Merriam.

Queer Refuge for Hunted Stag. Pursued by hounds a stag bounded in through the open French windows of the Y. M. C. A. buildings at Ashbourne House, Epsom, England, and took refuge in the larder, which measures eight feet by six. The huntsman and whips quickly came up and, securing the stag with ropes, placed it in some stables, from which it was removed shortly afterwards.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

DUE TO DEFECTIVE FLUES

Enormous Financial Losses by Fire is Credited to Carelessness in This Respect.

The campaign against the enormous preventable fire waste of the country has naturally led to a study of the principal hazards and those which can most easily be avoided. Hazards are divided broadly into two classes—physical and moral—the physical hazards being inherent in the risk itself and in its surroundings, while the moral hazard arises from personal factors.

Physical hazards may be subdivided into external and internal. This external hazards include lightning, explosions, sparks, bonfires and exposure losses. To this cause are due 28 per cent. of all losses both as to number and value. The internal hazards are much more numerous and may be subdivided into five classes. These are: Spontaneous combustion, the hazards due to the operation of machinery, the hazards incident to processes, those due to the various systems and kinds of apparatus used for heating and lighting, while the fifth division includes all those not already classified.

The various processes of heating which usually include the actual use of fire are responsible for more losses than any other cause, and under this class it should be noted that defective flues are responsible for twice as many fires as any other physical or known moral hazards, and for a greater property loss than any other cause.

Statistics show that 13 per cent. of the total number of fires can be attributed to defective flues, with a property loss of over $12,000,000 annually. Electricity is responsible for the larger proportion of the losses due to illumination, although not for the largest number of such losses—Insurance Post.

Easy Economy.

A propos of the 50 cent increase in the price of coal. Miss Evangeline Booth, of the Salvation Army, said at the New York headquarters: "And this increase, of course, will bear hardest on the poor. The poor, buying their coal by the bucket or by the quarter-ton, will pay this increase a dozen times over. And the rich, buying their coal by the carload, will dodge by means of discounts the increase altogether."

There was a lot of truth in the remark of the poor, harassed East Side housewife whose husband complained:

"I wish you would be more economical, Mary. Look at the boss' wife, how economical she is!"

"Yes, Mary, replied, 'It's easy enough for the boss' wife to be economical. She's got plenty to be economical with!"

Not Required to Kiss Bible.

The president of the United States is not required to kiss the Bible on taking the oath of office. The custom grew out of the fact that an early law of Maryland made that ceremony part of a legal oath, and the custom was continued in the District of Columbia, but it is not essential, nor is any particular form of oath. Jews are sworn on the Pentateuch, keep on their hats and conclude their oath with "so help me Jehovah," and if a Jew were elected president he would be permitted to take the oath of office in that form.

THE IDEAL RATION FOR DAIRY COWS

It is not possible to give a ration that will suit all conditions and all kinds of cows. In general, however, it may be said that the first requisite of an ideal ration for a good dairy cow is to feed all the roughage (sowing crop, hay, silage, roots, etc.) she will eat up clean and one pound of concentrates (bran, chop, all kinds of grain, soy bean meal, etc.) for each three to four pounds of milk she produces. In most cases it will be found that this will be just about all she will eat regularly without going off feed. The second requisite in an ideal ration

For milk production the Holstein cow is unexcelled. Other breeds of dairy cattle give milk testing higher in butter fat, but for performance at the pail the Holstein stands pre-eminent. The photograph here reproduced shows a few of the cows of a herd of Holsteins maintained at Sayville, N. Y., by W. E. Slater. Recently twenty-four of this herd were shipped to the Arizona State hospital. Nothing but pure breeds are kept in the herd.

is that it should be nutritious. The ration should be sufficiently bulky on the one hand to fully distend the stomach and other digestive organs, and at the same time there should be enough digestible material to fully meet the requirements of the animal. Practical experience is reached when about two-thirds of the total dry matter of the ration is in the form of roughage and one-third in the form of concentrates.

In addition to this an ideal ration should be palatable so that an animal will eat it with relish. While little is known concerning the effect of palatability, it is certainly true that of two feeds alike in all others respects the one most readily eaten by the animal will be the more effective.

The secretion of milk seems to be intimately connected with the water content of the food. The cow needs a large amount of water to drink, but aside from this there is a demand for feeds containing a high percentage of water, such as green forage, silage, roots, etc. The cow's digestion is kept in much better tone when such feeds are used.

To have an exact balance between the protein and the carbohydrates and fat is not so important as was once thought; for milk production it is necessary to have a larger amount of protein than for beef animals, but a dairy ration is now considered fairly satisfactory if the nutritive ration falls anywhere between 1:4 and 1:6.5.

Last of all the ideal ration should be composed of such feeds as will furnish the largest amount of digestible nutrients at the lowest cost. This necessitates the liberal use of home grown feeds with proper selection of those which must be purchased.—A. B. Nystrom, Washington Experiment Station.
